

PRESS RELEASE

the Re-Theatre Instrument

2227 SE Tibbetts St.
Portland, OR 97202

www.retheatre.org

(503) 201.2591

omnibus@retheatre.org

The Re-Theatre Instrument presents Faust, U.S.

CONTACT:	Sam Kusnetz • 503.201.2591 • sam@retheatre.org
PLAY:	Faust, U.S.
DIRECTOR:	Jason Zimbler
WRITERS:	Jason Zimbler, Tamara Carroll, Sam Kusnetz, and the Cast
CAST:	Danielle Vermette, Jamie Rea, Jeff Gorham, Lior Zadok, Paul Blore, and Rebecca Martinez
SHOW DATES:	February 1st - February 16th Fridays, Saturdays, and Sundays at 7:30 pm.
PRICES:	$26 - $16 Pay-what-you-will previews on Jan. 30th and 31st.
LOCATION:	Imago Theatre 17 SE 8th Avenue, Portland, OR
INFO. & BOX OFFICE:	On the web at http://www.retheatre.org By telephone at 503.201.2591

ABOUT THE SHOW:

Just how much effect can one politician have on the system? How about when the politician in question is willing to nakedly leverage the environment for his own myopic gain? Christopher Marlowe's Doctor Faustus is given a topical new treatment in the Re-Theatre Instrument's inaugural production, Faust, U.S. With the zeitgeist shouting ever louder for a frank debate on climate change, we offer the story of a Senator who becomes a President only to discover that there is no magic bullet to effect sweeping social change, and and quick fix solutions can have devastating costs.

ABOUT THE COMPANY:

The Re-Theatre Instrument, founded in the autumn of 2007 is a company dedicated to creating new work built around adaptations of classic texts. Our goal is to reconnect our audiences to these timeless stories by illuminating in them current social, moral, ethical, and political issues. We employ a unique collaborative process which harnesses the creativity of our actors, designers, and technicians to create incisive new texts and dramatic, fresh productions. More information on our company can be found on our website, <http://www.retheatre.org>

